

Cost of Attendance:

This amount is used to calculate your eligibility for aid and reflects both Direct Costs – those Stanford will bill you for, and Indirect Costs – those out of pocket expenses we anticipate will be necessary. If you are charged a different amount for tuition, for example, your aid eligibility may change. Think of this as your budget for the year. If your actual expenses match these allowances, and if the parent contribution and student responsibility below are met, you will be able to manage your expenses. For more details see financialaid.stanford.edu/undergrad/budget.

Estimated Direct Costs

Health Insurance	$7,128
Tuition	$61,731
Housing and Food	$19,922
Student Fees Allowance	$2,205
New Student Fees	$775

Estimated Indirect Costs

Personal Expense Allowance	$3,150
Books and Supplies Allowance	$825

Total Costs	$95,736
--------------------	-----------------

Scholarships and Grants:

This is gift aid that does not have to be paid back. Aid from Stanford is awarded based on our calculation of your need. If information is still required, these awards are estimates and may change. These amounts will be applied to your student account quarterly and pay direct costs first. Details regarding quarterly amounts can be found at axess.stanford.edu.

Stanford Resources

Health Insurance Scholarship	$7,128
Stanford Fund Scholarship	$84,333
New Student Fees Scholarship	$775

Federal/State Resources

Outside Resources

Total Grants and Scholarships	$92,236
--------------------------------------	-----------------

Net Cost to you:

Net Cost is Cost of Attendance minus Scholarships and Grants. Additional resources listed in the sections below may be available to help you with the Net Cost.

Total Net Cost	$3,500
-----------------------	----------------

Parent Contribution:

Suggested contribution toward total expenses based on information provided on your financial aid application and a standard formula.

Parent Contribution	$0
---------------------	-----

Student Responsibility:

Suggested contribution toward total expenses through summer earnings and assets (student contribution) and earnings during the academic year. You may also meet your student responsibility through outside scholarships and/or student loans. For information about applying for jobs on campus see financialaid.stanford.edu/aid/employ.

Student Contribution	$0
Academic Year Job Earnings	$3,500

Loan Programs:

Student or Parent loans may be available to help finance your Net Cost. Any loans listed here have been offered for that purpose. You may be eligible for additional loans; see details about loan eligibility and processing instructions at financialaid.stanford.edu/loans.

Your total student indebtedness at Stanford: $0
(excluding loans not yet accepted)

* If you have not already done so, you will need to secure a US Social Security Number or Individual Taxpayer Identification Number (ITIN) once in the country in order to receive financial aid through the University.

* This analysis is based on more than one family member attending college. If you are receiving need-based aid you must report changes in their attendance to the Financial Aid Office.

* Stanford cannot assume responsibility for international economic factors such as currency fluctuations in determining financial aid nor can it make up foregone resources such as lost support from friends or relatives or declined government or corporate grants.

Stanford | Financial Aid

* You are eligible to have Stanford financial aid purchase one round trip between home and campus during this academic year through Stanford Travel. We are not able to reimburse you for tickets purchased on your own.